My response to the Main Issues Report

Development Bid Reference 0944 Inchgarth Road

I live in Cults and therefore am very familiar with the road network issues. It is widely acknowledged that the existing network is not fit for purpose. Indeed these roads have significant safety concerns and on a daily basis cause congestion on the A93 at Pitfodells and Cults. A new safe, modern road has been needed for many years. Supporting this development will allow for this important infrastructure and will also provide purpose built accommodation for a significant number of elderly people and provide them with the facilities they need in a village community. The site of the proposed development is derelict land and is not easily access ble to the general public and seems to be used only by a few local dog owners. It is proposed that a large portion of this land becomes a managed parkland area which the general public could enjoy to a much greater extent. The whole project deserves our full support.
