The United Nations Convention has 54 articles that cover all aspects of a child's life and set out the civil, political, economic, social and cultural rights that all children everywhere are entitled to. It also explains how adults and governments must work together to make sure all children can enjoy all their rights.

Children's rights apply to every child/young person under the age of 18 and to adults still eligible to receive a "children's service" e.g. care leavers aged 18-26 years old.

6.2 In what way will the policy impact the rights of Children and Young People?

The policy sets out that the Board must have regard to the licensing objectives set out in Section 1 of the Gambling Act 2005. These are:

- Preventing gambling from being a source of crime or disorder, being associated with crime or disorder or being used to support crime;
- Ensuring that gambling is conducted in a fair and open way; and
- Protecting children and other vulnerable persons from being harmed or exploited by gambling.

In relation to the objective Protecting children and other vulnerable persons from being harmed or exploited by gambling, the Board will:

- seek to limit the advertising for premises so that gambling products are not aimed at children or advertised in such a way that makes them particularly attractive to children.
- Where the Board determines that there may be a risk of harm to children in relation to particular premises, it may exclude or limit the access of children to the premises at specific times or when certain activities are taking place.
- Impose additional conditions where necessary to protect children and other vulnerable persons from harm.
- consider carefully whether applications for Premises Licences in respect of gambling premises located close to schools, centres for gambling addicts, or residential areas where there may be a high concentration of families with children, should be granted, and will fully scrutinise the control measures outlined in an operator's local area risk assessment in this regard.

There is also a lengthy list of what the Board will expect of Licence Holders.
